

GARDINER TRAVEL SCHOLARSHIPS

These scholarships, awarded by the Griffith Institute annually since 1989 and usually advertised in the summer, are currently suspended, because the funding available to the Institute is insufficient to support them. We very much regret that we are unable to continue this programme for the time being. We know how much these awards are appreciated, and we hope to reinstate them at such time as funding again becomes available.

In the meantime, the Institute's core activities of the Topographical Bibliography project, the archives, and the publication programme continue as usual. Visiting researchers are welcome to come and access its facilities by appointment, and also to apply for admission as temporary readers in the Sackler Library (<http://www.saclib.ox.ac.uk/>).

The Gardiner Scholarships have provided a unique opportunity for young Egyptologists scholars to visit the UK for their research. The Institute will be happy to offer its facilities to visiting researchers in Egyptology who obtain funding from elsewhere. In addition to sources in their own countries, which often prove to be a better source of financial support, we would draw attention to the Visiting Fellowship scheme of the British Academy (<http://www.britac.ac.uk/funding/guide/intl/visfells.html>).
